

A Good Cough Mixture.

Simple Home-made Remedy Free From Opiates and Harmful Drugs.

An effective remedy, that will usually break up a cold in twenty-four hours and quickly relieve the most irritating cough, is easily made at home by mixing together in a large bottle, 2 ounces of glycerine, a 1/2 ounce of strain oil of pine and 8 ounces of pure whiskey. Shake well and take a teaspoonful every four hours. The necessary ingredients are inexpensive and can be bought in any good drug store. This formula is the one used and recommended for many years by the late Dr. W. A. Leach, founder of the Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, O., in whose laboratory the genuine strain oil of pine is compounded.

Black Bread.
"Black bread"—that is, rye bread—is not a famine ration, says the London Lancet, but just as good food as white bread and the staple food of the staff of life in several civilized countries. There is almost no difference chemically between the two breads, although the wheat contains slightly more gluten. Black bread "keeps fresh"—that is, moist—much longer than white bread. It has a slightly greater irritant effect upon the intestinal canal, which is also an advantage under ordinary circumstances. The whole rye bread is the preferable form.

Honors For Westerly Student

Reginald Oppy Leader of School Arts Guild Against 20,000 Competitors—Republican Leaders in Conference—Grand Army Post Invited to Meet Department Commander at Ashaway—Dr. G. W. Rigler Resigns Again.

Henry Turner Bailey, editor of the School Arts Book, and chairman of the jury of awards, makes this announcement, which will be of special interest to the pupils of the Westerly schools:
"The leader of the School Arts Guild for 1909-1910 is Reginald Oppy of the Quarry Hill school, Westerly. He contributed his first drawing in October, 1907. After November, 1907, he sent nothing more until April, 1910. His record of progress is marked by his having received a fourth prize, a third prize, an honorable mention, and lastly, first prize in June, 1910. The first prize was awarded upon a design for a canoe pillow, in accordance with a suggestion made in the May number of the School Arts Book. The King-fisher motive has been cleverly adapted to the conditions. The artist has been used with good judgment to produce a decorative pattern well adapted to the space and pleasing in effect. The design was sketched in dull orange-red upon a golden brown denim, two analogous tones well related to the color of the canoe interior."
The following letter has been received by Master Oppy from Mr. Bailey:
"This certifies that in the monthly contests in drawing and design maintained by the School Arts Book during the school year 1909-1910 and participated in by 20,000 school children in the United States, Reginald Oppy of the seventh grade in the Quarry Hill school, Westerly, R. I., won the largest number of awards and by virtue of his increasingly excellent work is entitled to the honor of leader in the School Arts Guild. Should Master Oppy, after completing his public school course, decide to enter an art school, this record is worthy to stand as a testimonial to his ability as a student and as a recommendation to the art school authorities."
The latest list of awards has just been announced, and includes these Westerly pupils: Reginald Oppy, first prize, a student in the Elm street school; Edwin Baker, Elm street school; Ernest Pandey, Quarry Hill school; K. K. Hodges, Quarry Hill school; third prize winners: Rachel Barber, Elm street school; Margaret Buttram, Elm street school; William Champe, White Rock school; Misses Marie, Niantic school, and Thomas Plamondon, Niantic school; fourth prize winners: Howard E. Clark, Niantic school; Edna Chislock, Antonia Panofsky, Camelia Panofsky, Martin Randolph, Hannah Stillman and Nora Williams of Westerly.

Thomas E. Hickey of New London, well known in Westerly, where he frequently visited in the interests of the R. I. & A. R. Chappell company, and who had supervision of the coal yard of the Chappell Co. in Main street up to two years ago, when it was abandoned on account of change of ownership of the property, died in Memorial hospital Sunday morning, following an operation for an advanced case of appendicitis. Mr. Hickey was born in New London 43 years ago, was graduated from Bulkeley at 16, and immediately entered the employ of the

THE FAT FROM THE FLOWER.
There is not a single kind of animal food which we might not replace with a vegetable counterpart. In most cases it is merely a matter of choice which is preferable, the animal or the vegetable. In the matter of cooking fats, however, the vegetable has by far the advantage. Lard is made from the fat of hogs, often impure and unclean, always indigestible. Cotletone comes from the cotton fields of the Sunny South. It makes food that can be digested with ease, even by invalids. Cotletone is recommended by physicians and noted cooking experts as much more healthful and desirable than lard.

Charles Lamb and May.
Charles Lamb did not like May. Here is a thing of his against the merry month:
"I do not mind the utmost rigor of real winter," he wrote to Bernard Barton, "but these smiling hypocrites of May wither me to death. . . . What lyes you poets tell about the May; it is the most ungenial part of the year, cold crocuses and cold primroses; you take your blossoms in ice—a painted sun—
"Unmeaning joy around appears,
And nature smiles as if she aces."
—Westminster Gazette.

Choca.
For an energizing life giving drink that unites in itself the peculiar properties of the solid with those of the liquid one might do worse than try choca, the favorite beverage of Voltaire. The ingredients are coffee, milk and chocolate in about equal proportions, and they must be blended when nearly boiling hot and served well frothed. It was one of the minor troubles of Napoleon III. when an exile in England that he could not obtain his beloved choca to his liking.—London Graphic.

A Scar.

The Diving Bell.
The history of diving reaches back into the dim and distant past. Alexander the Great is said to have descended in a machine which kept him dry while making some kind of submarine investigation. Aristotle mentions a device which enabled men to remain some time under water. In a book published early in the sixteenth century appears a picture of a man wearing a helmet, to which is fastened the leather tub floated on the surface of the water by an inflated bag. In 1528 two Greeks made a submarine trip under an inverted chamber, which kept them dry. This was in the presence of the Emperor Charles V. and some 12,000 spectators.

Have You a Cold?

Better Check It At Once—Neglect Often Leads To Serious Illness.

Oil of Pine is a splendid natural remedy for the treatment of throat and bronchial troubles. Because of its purity and freedom from opiates and narcotic drugs it is especially valuable for children. Two or three drops of the Pine oil, on a little sugar, affords speedy relief in the most obstinate cough, soothes the irritation and heals the inflamed mucous membrane. Oil of Pine is often prescribed in the following formula, which, it is claimed, will break up a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable: Mix a half-ounce of Oil of Pine with two ounces of glycerine and eight ounces (a half-pint) of pure Whisky. These ingredients can be purchased in nearly every first-class drug store, and are easily mixed in a large bottle. A teaspoonful once in four hours is the usual dose.
